

THE DAILY BEE

Thursday Morning Nov. 27.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

—Charles Fisher was yesterday afternoon married to Minnie Wittford, by Judge Benke.

—Tuttle & Allison have satisfactorily adjusted the loss sustained by Stephens Bros. in the late fire.

—By the number of turkeys in the market it would seem that they have not been rooting very high this year.

—Today is Thanksgiving day, and the democrats say that they have reason to give thanks in good shape.

—Deputy United States Marshal Crew came in from Harlan county last night having in custody a woman named Sarah Johnson, charged with selling liquor without license.

—The postoffice will be closed to-day same as Sunday. Only open from 12 to 1 p. m. Letter carriers will make one trip in the early morning. C. K. Coutant, postmaster.

—Yesterday, early, Geisler's saloon, on South Tenth street, was entered by burglars and a quantity of cigars and liquors were taken. No clue to the thief has as yet been obtained.

—The work of building the B. & M. bridge across the U. P. track beyond Summit stopped yesterday, as the supply of stone was exhausted. It is expected that work will be resumed in a few days.

—All members of Myrtle Division No. 3, U. R. K. of P. O. met to meet at the Armory this Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock sharp for business and drill. By order of the Commanding Officer.

—Mary Dugdale, living at the corner of Eighth and Howard streets, had her clothes robbed last Tuesday night. Yesterday she swore out a search warrant, but failed to find her property.

—John Miles was recommended to the police service yesterday, and after honorably passing the necessary ordeal and pledging his eternal devotion to the maintenance of municipal peace and good order, donned the regalia and went on night duty.

—Constable Edgerston yesterday arrested a deserter named Michael Lemon, a soldier of company C, Seventh cavalry, at the St. James hotel in this city. Lemon deserted from the army last May, and returned to the city only a short time ago. He was placed in the county jail and later was turned over to the United States commanding officer.

—A great many complaints are being made of late concerning the Tenth street crossing over the Union Pacific tracks. The planks, which in summer lie close against the rails, have been moved back on account of the frost leaving a place large enough for horses to step into and be thrown down. Several animals have been injured lately, and unless these places are repaired damages will follow to the owners of horses driven over these tracks.

—On last Sunday morning after the fire, Councilman Ford's son was caught by the city marshal with his pockets filled with pipes, cigars and tobacco belonging to Stephens Bros., who were burned out. The marshal compelled the boy to put back the stolen goods and then reported him to his alderman's office. Some people ask the question "why was he not locked up in jail like any other criminal?"

—A natural curiosity was at Psycho Bros., commission house yesterday. It was a Rocky Mountain sheep and the first one ever shipped into this market. It's horns at the butt were four inches thick and from their appearance the animal must have been 50 years old when killed. It was placed in a pot now and a good hot fire kept under it he might be boiled sufficiently tender to eat by Christmas day. Anybody who wants to try it can have an opportunity.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

A Day Set Apart for Thanks All Over the Nation.

How the Day Will be Observed in This City—A List of Amusements.

To-day is the day designated by the president of these United States and by the governor of Nebraska as a day of thanksgiving for the many blessings of the past year. Persons have different ideas as to how they should express their thanks. Many people visit the churches and there in a reverent manner express their thanks and gratitude to an all-wise Providence for his many and continued blessings, for the rain and sunshine, seed time and abundant harvest. Others who are less religiously inclined trip the light fantastic or attend the theatre.

But there is one thing in which all agree, and that is that Thanksgiving day is the day of all the year for a bang up good dinner, and many a fine fat turkey, goose or chicken is slaughtered to give the good housewife an opportunity to show how she can cook a fowl to a turn.

With Thanksgiving time comes a large number of amusements and this year is no exception to the general rule. A partial list of places where amusement loving people can get their fill will be found below.

EARLY HOUR CLUB.

To-night the social club known as the "Early Hour Club," give their second party in Masonic hall. This is a new organization, but is composed of some of the first young men of this city, and is giving very pleasant parties.

A. M. E. CHURCH.

The Gate City Social club will serve dinner at the A. M. E. church, on Eighteenth and Webster streets, on Thanksgiving, to be concluded at night by a grand concert by the club consisting of music and literary exercises.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

This afternoon a matinee performance will be given at Boyd's opera house, at which time the melodrama "Burr Oaks" will be presented.

AT THE ACADEMY.

At the Academy of Music to-night Madame Stanley's Female madonnas give an entertainment.

"DRESS REHEARSAL."

The second choir of St. Philomena's, with a membership of twenty-five, will produce Diehl's charming opera, "Dress Rehearsal," under the leadership of Miss Fannie Arn'd, of St. Philomena's parochial school, at Ninth and Howard streets, to-night. There will also be instrumental solos and duets and vocal music. The proceeds of the entertainment will go to the school fund, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. The young ladies who participate in "Dress Rehearsal" have been thoroughly drilled, and an interesting exhibition may be looked for.

AT THE HOTELS.

At the hotels to-day elegant dinners will be spread. Especially is this true of the Millard and Paxton hotels. These houses have made arrangements for big dinners and their tables will be loaded with all the delicacies of the season and all kinds of game.

In the above list something must be found for everybody and all can have an opportunity to enjoy themselves.

Every lady uses Pozzoni's medicated complexion powder. It is a household treasure. The madam finds it impossible to go down town without first rubbing it on. If the baby cries she goes for the powder. If the "old man" comes home ruffled or chafed, because business is dull, etc., Pozzoni's powder cools and allays his troubles. Then all is gladness and joy. No family should be without it.

R. R. EMPLOYEE'S BONDS.

The Property of Exacting them From Union Pacific Agents.

Editor Bee.

FREMONT, November 26.—I notice in your issue to-day a communication regarding the circular of the U. P. Railway calling for bonds of employees who handle their monies to any extent. Now I can see no inconsistency in the request or rule and accord to them the same privilege to guard against loss that I would any individual who insures himself against loss by fire or accident and pays his premium for that consideration. And I further commend the company for paying the premiums as most companies require their employees to pay it either in full or at best half of it, and if an employee is an honest one it certainly can do him all harm, and the questions asked in the application are no more than you would ask of an applicant for a position of trust in your office. The question of one's religion is illustrative of the fact that dishonest members work their way (occasionally) into railway society the same as into orthodox church societies, and the question is no doubt to determine the extent of his liability to dishonesty, as some denominations may be more susceptible than others, and while we are willing to admit that orthodox religion and train service do not work harmoniously together, I would much rather seek assistance of train men than church members, bearing advice regarding the way to eternal rest, something unknown to train men on earth, and considered by some a myth in any event, but be that as it may, I think no employee should for a moment question the matter of bonds, but at once comply with the requirements, as there is nothing in them that reflects in any way upon his honesty, integrity or fidelity to the interest of the company, and if he has yet the first railroad to see that its officers did not deem it necessary to operate Sundays as well as other days of the week, and I take pleasure in answering the questions asked in the application, and congratulate myself that I am not called upon to forego the pleasure of a new winter suit by paying the premium from personal funds, and if all new departures are as commendable as this reasonable employee will question the justice of them. "AN EMPLOYEE."

Police Court.

Yesterday in the first trial in police court, five drunks appeared for trials.

Mike Murphy was the first man called and he hobbled to the front by the help of a cane and a crutch. He had but one leg, but had been foolish enough to get on a boiling drunk and fell into the clutches of a bold policeman. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $5 and costs.

John Maloney, J. S. Meeker and E. Croft meekly pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and were each fined $5 and costs. Mat. Fitzpatrick was badly broken up and could hardly control his voice to say "guilty" to the charge of drunkenness. Although only about 30 years of age his face looked as though he had borne the trials and tribulations of a hundred years. His eyes were bloodshot and his frame trembled as a tree shaken by a mighty wind. He was fined $5 and costs but unless he refrains from the use of liquor he will be called upon to stand before a higher judge very soon.

A CLOSE CALL.

A Burglar is Greeted with Four Shots From an Unlocked Quarter.

Four pistol-shots fired in quick succession near the corner of Thirteenth and Douglas streets at about 10 o'clock last night created a rumor that an attempt had been made to rob the Omaha National Bank. This, however, was not true, the shooting growing out of an attempted burglary at 1305 Douglas street. The rear end of this number, and the two upper floors are used by two men named Vega and Secor as a cigar manufactory who live in the rear end of the second story. The noise of some one at work below was heard by them, and on raising the window they saw a man taking cigars through an entrance to their store and laying them on the ground. The proprietors each fired two shots at him none of which, however, hit the burglar. Upon the report of the first shot he dropped his cigars and hat and started down the alley toward Fourteenth street, and coming to Wirth's restaurant made the rear entrance, ran through the dining hall and out into the street. He then started leisurely down across Douglas and coming in front of Clark's saloon requested a hackman to lend him his hat, and being refused he entered the old Republican building and escaped.

TAKEN BY BEEMER.

Two Men Arrested in Omaha on War-rants from Cuming County.

Sheriff Beemer, of Cuming county, came down from West Point yesterday and arrested two brothers named George and August Studenberg. These men were indicted at the last term of the Cuming county district court for obtaining money under false pretenses.

It appears that the Studenbergs lived on a farm near West Point, and went to a carriage manufacturer there and represented themselves as the owners of 300 acres of land. Upon these representations a carriage was sold to them on credit for $125. It afterward was learned that the farm was not theirs, but belonged to their uncle who has figured considerably in Omaha politics, but has since moved onto his ranch, leaving a very unenviable record behind him.

It is thought these defendants will pay off this debt, when the matter will be dropped by the state.

BLOODY BALL.

The Roughs Have a Dance Which Ends in Bloodshed.

Council Bluffs Correspondence.

Last night there was a bloody row at a dance given at what is called tar-paper hall near the fair grounds. Shots were fired and at least two men were seriously injured. As nearly as could be learned a man named Pardu who gave the dance was getting the worst of the fight and was being pounded, when he fired several shots. One ball is said to have hit Dick Fandauk, passing through his hand. Phil Bates was also reported to have been wounded but how seriously is not known. When the shooting took place there was a general breaking up of the dance, and the participants hurried away and the place was closed before the arrival of the police. From what can be learned the shooting was done in self defense.

A BIG SENSATION.

Wiley D. Clegg Arrested for Embezzlement Yesterday.

A Prominent Young Man Led Astray by the Fascination of a Fast Life.

Considerable stir was caused in the Union Pacific headquarters yesterday by the announcement that Wiley D. Clegg, an employe in the office of Cashier Brown at Union Pacific headquarters had been arrested upon the charge of embezzlement.

The young man is the son of Mr. Isaac Clegg and has been employed in the office of the cashier of the Union Pacific for a long time. He had been regarded as one of the most trusted employes in the office until recently when he was suspected of appropriating company money to his own use. For a year or more the company has been satisfied that some one was stealing from them at various times.

Before Clegg's detection several other employes in the office were suspected, as it was known that the leakage was in this office. Yesterday after having obtained conclusive evidence of Clegg's guilt a warrant was sworn out for his arrest, and he was taken into custody by Sheriff Miller. After his arrest, Clegg made a full confession to the sheriff after which he was placed in jail where he now remains.

It seems that part of Clegg's duties was to receive and handle packages of money sent into headquarters by the various agents along the road and whenever an opportunity presented itself he would abstract one of the packages and use its contents for individual purposes. In this way he stole somewhere about $2,500, the exact amount not being known.

Of late he has been leading quite a fast life on the quiet, and it is supposed that he made away with the funds in this manner. He now feels his humiliation deeply.

The arrest caused a great deal of surprise among his many friends in this city, and they are almost loath to believe his guilt, as he was the last person that any of them would suspect of committing such a crime, but nevertheless the fact remains, and the company claims to have the evidence which would fasten the guilt upon him had he not made a voluntary confession of his sin.

He has always been considered an exemplary young man, has moved in good circles in society, and has been regarded as a universal favorite.

THE NEW HOUSE.

The Willow Springs distillery greases the wheels of the Horse Cart.

To-night the new engine house at the corner of Eleventh and Dorcas streets will be formally opened, and preparations are being made for a grand good time among the fire boys and their friends in the city. In view of this fact the Willow Springs distillery people presented the fire department with a quantity of the finest wines and liquors, accompanied by the following note:

OMAHA, November 26, 1884. John H. Butler, Esq., Chief of Fire Department, and John Galligan, Esq., Assistant. Gentlemen:—As a slight testimonial of our appreciation of your department in putting out the fire at our distillery on the morning of November 1, please accept, with our compliments and best wishes, the accompanying quantity of wine and liquors which we trust will furnish you as much pleasure in using as it does us in giving. Wishing you success, we remain, yours very sincerely,

P. E. LEACH, President.

After to-night horse company No. 4 will answer all calls in the southern and eastern part of the city from the new house, and by this arrangement a great deal of time will be saved when alarms are turned in from south Omaha.

SMUT AND CATTLE DISEASE.

HASTINGS, Neb., November 24.—I notice that many cattle are dying in Franklin county, and there seems to be doubt in regard to the cause. I have lost seven head and am fully satisfied that the Zediker of Franklin, partly hits the nail on the head when he says "we do believe it is the stalk fields that cause it."

My cattle were all well kept up to the time of putting them in the corn stalks. Three days they were in stalks and about three or four hours each day; fourth day they were in stalks about six hours; fifth day all appeared well when they came in at noon. At 2 o'clock p. m. found three of them in a dying condition. Post mortem made at once; found all organs in normal condition, excepting second stomach. This was found greatly inflamed and impacted with corn and dry fodder which seemed to have been well masticated. The same condition was found in the entire seven bodies examined after death. In one the inflammation had advanced to such an extent that the two membranes which make up the "manifold" slipped or came apart on the slightest touch, the smoother of the two being all black; in all, the manfolds were very dark. I am satisfied that all seven died of inflammation of the stomach, and further I am confident that medical treatment was utterly useless after it was discovered the animals were sick. I might go on at length and give symptoms and treatment, but will cut that matter short by saying that they all died within four hours of the time when we first found them ill.

Now as to the matter, we are all most interested in the cause of these inflamed stomachs. Of one thing I am morally certain, it is found in the corn fields. I have heard of a large number of deaths since from the corn stalks. Now I have run my cattle one to two hundred in corn stalks for several years past and never lost one before, so I concluded there must be something peculiar about the stalks this year. I thought when the first three died that it was a lack of water, as the cattle had been a little short of water some days previous. When three more died so no days after (having had plenty of water) and some of my neighbors lost them where there could have been no possible lack of water, I began to doubt if the shortage of water was a dry fodder were the cause of death and concluded that the "smut" had something to do with it, and I am still of this opinion.

I believe that the whole matter may be summed up, and the cause of death found in dry fodder and smut found this year in large quantities in the corn fields. The poisonous effect of the smut is unquestionably greatly increased by insufficiency of water.

The remedy is obvious to all, provided my idea is correct as to cause, viz: Keep the cattle away from the smut.

I am now picking the smut as I pick my corn and burning it. At present I am experimenting feeding smut to a calf about four months old, and will give the result at some future day. In the meantime tell the farmers to keep their stock out of stalk fields which have smut in them.

The season has been particularly favorable for perfecting the growth of smut.

JOHN N. LYMAN.

SHORT SUSPENSIONS.

Officers Buckley, Flynn and Douglas Restored to the Force.

Councilmen Bechel, Thrane and Ford, constituting the police committee of the city council, met in secret session yesterday afternoon to consider the action of Marshal Cummings in his suspension of Officers Flynn, Buckley and Douglas. The marshal, his aid, Capt. Sullivan, and the suspended men themselves were present at the examination.

In the code of local police laws, if the unwritten and mysterious regulations which govern that branch of the municipal service, may be so dignified, there is a clause providing for the imposition of a fine of one day's pay for any officer found abroad from the limits of his beat. Another provisional clause is understood to be appended which declares a repetition of such offense punishable by a two day's fine, and a third infraction by temporary suspension and a report to the council committee.

Officer Flynn, covering Twelfth street by night, was once found in the Buckingham theatre by the marshal, and for this slight diversion (as it appeared) was immediately visited with the last mentioned extreme penalty of the law. First taking up this case, the committee, after brief deliberation, took into consideration Officer Flynn's past efficient service, and the fact that his first offense was in itself pardonable in the fact that the Buckingham, located on his rounds, came naturally under his surveillance, dismissed the charges and re-instated the officer.

Buckley and Douglas, despite the marshal's protest that his remonstrance to them for breach of discipline had not been received with respectful subordination, were returned to duty with a moral lecture in the loss of one day's salary.

The WESTERN LIVE STOCK REMEDY.

Nearly Every Breeder in the country has often expressed a desire to obtain a remedy that would keep animals in a healthy condition, a remedy that would take the place of the worthless stuff that is usually given after the animal is near the point of death. Thousands of Dollars might be saved annually if breeders, farmers, and, in fact, any one from the person owning an extensive herd to the modest gardener with a pony and a cow, would keep their animals in a thoroughly healthy condition.

Nothing has ever been offered in the market until the Western Live Stock Remedy was discovered, that has filled this bill. A dollar's worth of this article every two or three months may save any one who is the owner of live stock, hundreds or thousands of dollars in the course of a year.
